Tunnels Near Sacsayhuaman

It's becoming more and more easier to do this, firstly because 21st century conceptions about seership and clairvoyance are slowly coming into view and the older way of seeing it from the previous millennium are fading. It's only helpful because in the natural view of things, a new millennium will of course bring about new phases and modes in overall human perception, while all the while, specific people and their higher beings have always been a million years in advance of the rest of the human race. Noumenal Extrasensory Existent Society brings to you a finding on par with Proclus and/or the Alexandrian Library...maybe even more so—something Sir Edward Bulwer-Lytton would be taken by the discovery thereof and especially since the author did not have to go there himself and bury himself within the Earth to clairvoyantly see.

There are several tunnel entrances near Sacsayhuaman which can be seen from the locality. This is around Cusco, Peru. This is an Inner Earth entrance. Mind you the author only performed clairvoyance upon the photo of one of the entrances, yet it is probably all interconnected and we need not worry. Blavatsky has spoken of tunnels around this area which connect to Chile and Bolivia (of our time). We must work together and string together all of the clairvoyant findings to improve accuracy and reach a height yet unknown to our planet in knowledge and sight of the unknown things of mystery.

This is very powerful during the reading. The astral light is flooding the room and heart. There's an entrance to another locality. The Lunar Race lives down there. It is very deep and it is very mystical. Inner Earth—another dwelling—another visage—highly adaptive. They're aware, a w a r e. They aren't imprisoned there. They have three senses. No nose. They have eyes, ears, taste and the skin is absorptive or minute. There is an entrance.

Speaking the words of the astral soul directly to mine, they are saying: there's an entrance, there's a jettison. It's on the terrace. They don't believe in the surface. They are the previous globe (as in occultism). They cry out! Winged and the Inner Earth beings can float. They don't have hair like we have. XVI Tower displays occultly...a definite civilization. One hundred miles down.

You would be sorry you went there. It is very interdimensional. Far beyond normal human existence. They were already there, before the first root race.
